

Wednesday 3rd March
2021

J j

ACTION

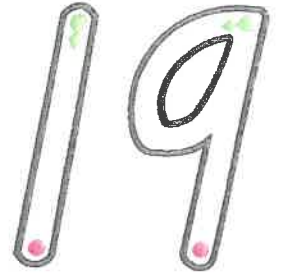

Pretend to be a jelly, and wobble, saying j, j, j, jelly.

- jelly
- jump
- jet
- jug
- jam

Draw the letters dotted here:

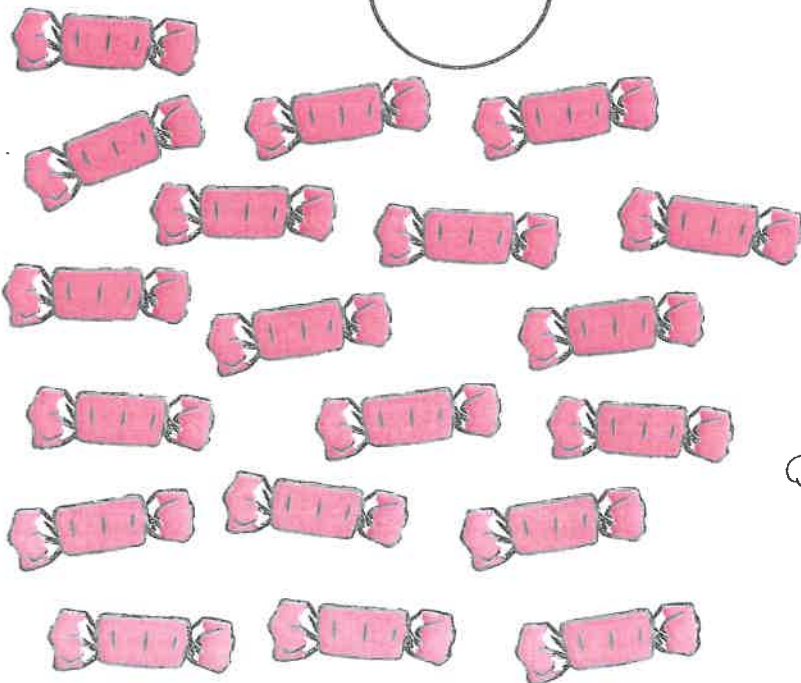

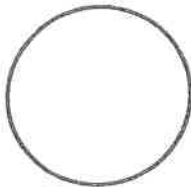

Number Nineteen Formation

Trace over these numbers and then try writing your own.

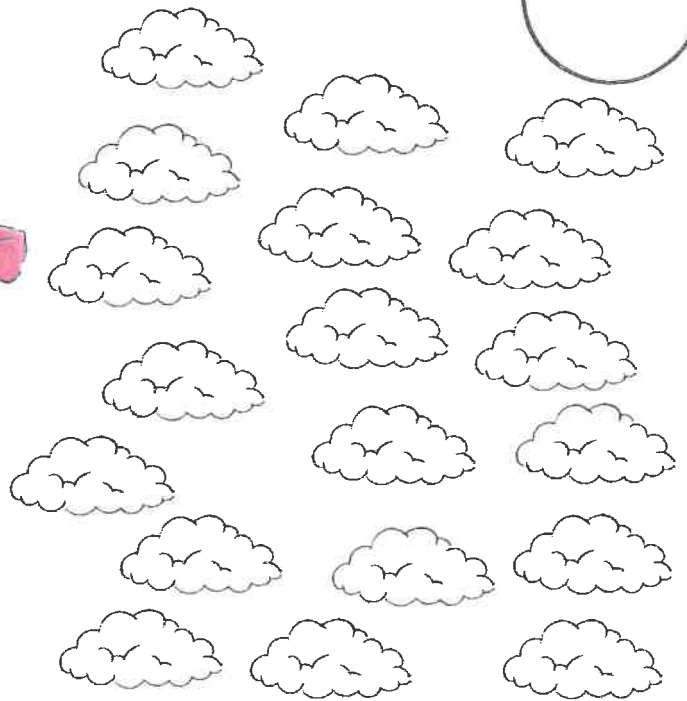

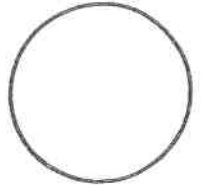

How many? Write the answer in the circle.

How many lollies?

How many clouds?

Fairtrade Fortnight

twinkl

twinkl

What is fair?

Who should have a piece of chocolate?

Lots of things are unfair.

Everyone has something unfair happen to them. It is part of life.

The world is not fair.

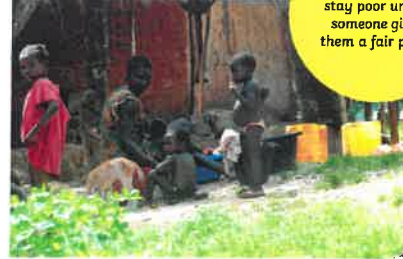

Where you are born can affect how rich or poor you are.

When a person is born poor they grow crops to live. But no one will give them a fair price.

They will always stay poor unless someone gives them a fair price.

Fair trade is about making the world more fair.

It is about giving a fair price for things that we buy so poor people do not stay poor whilst we get richer.

Fairtrade is about:

- Better prices for crops.
- Better working conditions (workers are treated well and children are sent to school).
- Keeping farming sustainable (keeping farming going at a certain level for a long period of time).
- Fair terms of trade (selling goods) for farmers and workers in poorer countries.
- Extra money is usually put into things that help the local community such as bicycles to get to work or wells to provide water.

If something is traded fairly this symbol will be on it.

Can you spot any fair trade logos?

What is traded fairly?

- Coffee
- Bananas
- Chocolate
- Sugar
- Tea
- Honey
- Cotton

Where does it come from?

- Wine
- Fruit
- Flowers
- Gold
- Handicrafts
- Nuts

Where does it come from?

- Africa
- Asia
- Latin America

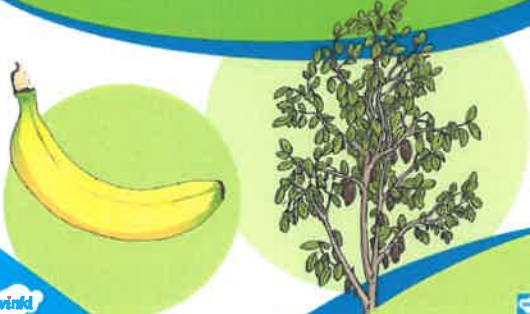

Have you eaten any of these foods today?

Fairtrade Fortnight

- Fairtrade Fortnight is a unique campaign that aims to transform the banana industry to ensure the people in the supply chain and the millions of struggling banana farmers and workers, get a fair deal.
- 1 in 3 British bananas are fair trade but there is still a serious problem at the heart of the banana business.
- Many banana farmers and workers have had their earnings cut as banana prices go down in the UK.
- Supermarkets want to pay as little as possible for bananas to offer us the lowest prices but this puts pressure on workers and farmers.
- Fairtrade wants to make pricing work for both consumers and farmers. It is time for the government to help end these unfair prices.

What can you do to help?

Buy bananas and other products that have the Fairtrade symbol on them. If you do this, you know that a fair price has been paid to the workers. Over 4,500 different Fairtrade products are now available to UK shoppers.

twinkl

My Fair Trade Lunchbox

Did you remember about Fairtrade shopping this week?

Draw what Fairtrade products you could take for your school lunch.

